WHEN KNIGHTHOOD WAS IN FLOWER.

Recently, Mr. Charles Major, author of "When Knighthood Was in Flower," with his family, witnessed, for the first time, at Richmond, Ind., Effie Ellsler's portrayal of his mad-cap heroine, "Princess Mary Tudor." After the performance Mr. Major was interviewed by a "Richmond Sun-Telegram" reporter and said:

"I am pleased beyond measure with the intelligent rendition given to the piece. I am charmed with Miss Ellsler's conception and portrayal of Mary Tudor and with the uniform excellence of her Company. Manager Frank L. Perley is to be congratulated on his selection of such an artistic cast. Tonight's performance has given me as much pleasure as did the original. I consider this interpretation the equal of any the play has ever had. I hope some day to have Miss Ellsler originate a character for me."

D. HECHINGER & CO.

It does look as if the people have been waiting for our Cut Price Sale.

Whilst at this season of the year most merchants reconcile themselves to just what happens to come along we take an aggressive stand and hold out inducements that will make people buy despite the lateness of the winter. The public recognizes the values we give them in our Stein-Bloch, Adler Bros. and Garson-Meyer Clothing, all of which are now sold at

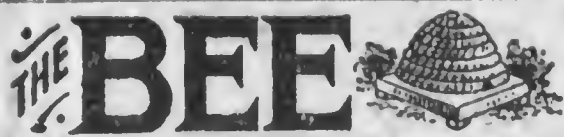

20% Off

From the regular price, and this accounts for the phenomenal business we are now having.

If interested in a Suit or Overcoat for yourself or boy look in every other clothing house in town before you come to us. It will not take you long to find out the cause of our house being constantly crowded with buyers.

THE LAGGARDS!

So might most merchants call the two months of January and February, but orders at headquarters in this store require that every person that is employed by this firm MUST push, strive and strain every nerve to make these two months show as LARGE SALES as any other month. From the monetary standpoint of our pockets WE TOO might call these two months "The Laggards." But the deck must be cleared, and cleared as it was never cleared before, as we sail into a new season on March first. On Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays of each week we shall place before you through the papers of Maysville SALES that are of extraordinary value. We shall give to our customers opportunities such as seldom been their lot to fall heir to. Be on the alert, for the early riser gets the cream.

AFTER fifty years of earnest trial, Vermont is about to throw off Prohibition and substitute local option and high license. It is surprising how impatient some people are. Why don't the Vermonters give the gaspise saloon a fair trial?

HAVING been twice turned down by the Democrats, Mr. BRYAN is now throwing great chunks of taffy at his former political colleagues, the Populists. He says in his Commoner that Populism was not only of benefit to the country, but that it "saved the Democratic party from annihilation."

FROM 1890 to 1900 the capital invested in the silk industry in the United States was increased from $51,000,000 to $81,000,000, and the value of the finished product increased from $87,000,000 to $107,000,000; and yet, when it was proposed to manufacture silk in this country, there were any number of wise men who said it couldn't be done.

If you'll just give him time, your Uncle Sam will be sure to get there with both feet. Mrs. GEORGE A. GRAVES of Ogden, Utah, has just received a check from the United States Government for $250 in settlement of a claim that has been pending for 105 years. The claim was for the capture and destruction by the French about the year 1798 of a schooner belonging to Captain ROBERT PATTON of Gardiner, Me.

Political Pickings

PATERNALISM RAMPANT.

Washington Post.

Secretary Wilson contends that the people who kill their cattle afflicted with the foot and mouth disease should be paid for the same. What about the man who sorts his potatoes and is obliged to throw away the bad ones? Then there is the newspaper publisher who would not object to receiving compensation for the papers that are spoiled in the process of printing. But there are so many other industries the Secretary might benefit in this manner that it is not at all practical for us to attempt to enumerate. If we are going in for paternalism, why show discrimination.

NOT A PARTY ISSUE.

Chattanooga Times, Democratic.

The Trust issue is not a party issue and cannot be made one. The politicians whom the parties send to Congress may divide on party lines, when the question comes up, but the people of every party and of no party want safety and fair play, and they will accept joyfully the laws that make for such conditions, whether they shall be suggested by a Democrat, a Republican or a Populist. It's a matter of business and concerns all the people. An honest, independent and well-informed press speaks for the masses on such subjects, unawed by the dictums of bosses or party would-be dictators.

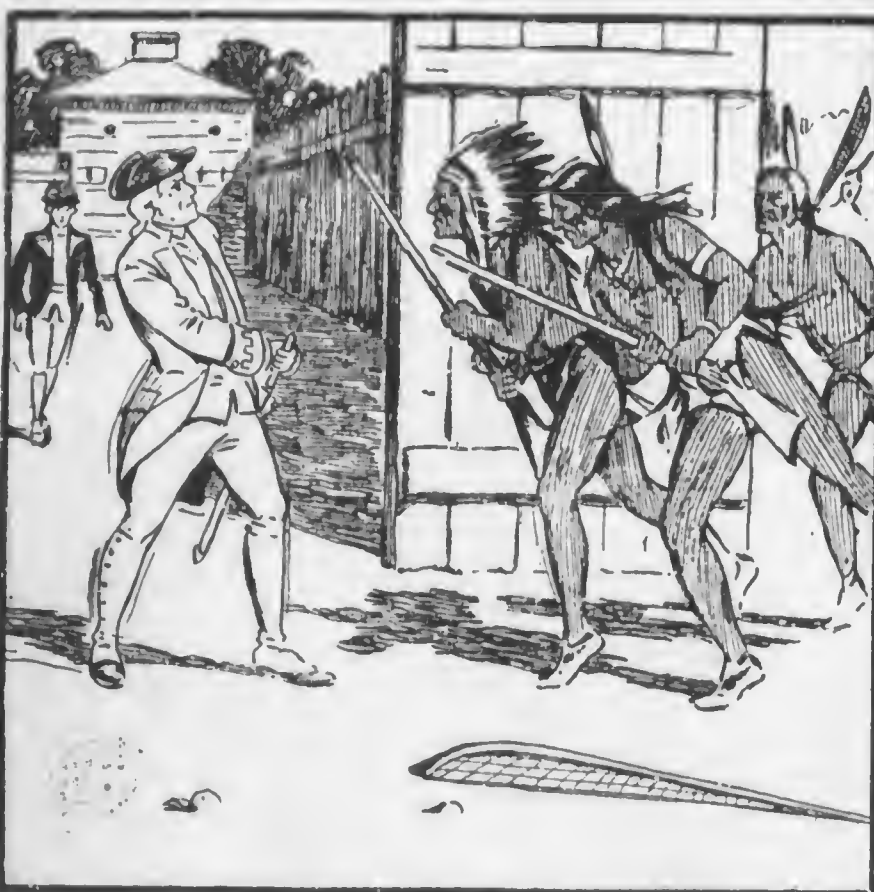

WANTS TO JOIN THE UNION.

Washington Star.

Congress cannot admit the District of Columbia to the Union as a state, because to do so would violate the supreme control vested in it by the Constitution. Congress cannot grant representation to the District of Columbia in Congress, because Representatives are apportioned to states; Senators are elected by Legislatures of states, and Electors are based on the number of Representatives and Senators, and chosen as the Legislatures of the states may direct. Congress, then, under the Constitution, can go no further than to admit delegates from the District, which is not what is desired at all. An amendment to the Constitution, therefore, is necessary to obtain for the District what it ought to have, unaccompanied by things extremely undesirable. Senator Gallinger's proposition would seem to meet the District's requirements, and if Congress can be induced to adopt it without further tinkering with the suffrage question here; and if it will still maintain the half-and-half principle of taxation; and if the states will ratify the measure by adopting an amendment to the Constitution, then the people of the District will have gained something to the purpose in the way of National representation.

Auditor's Agent A. G. Secret will file six or eight suits for back taxes against estates in Carlisle and Nicholas county that will reach something near $200,000.

LESSON IN AMERICAN HISTORY IN PUZZLE

INDIAN STRATEGY AT FORT MICHILIMACKINAC.
Find the Commander of the Fort.

The uprising of the Indians arranged by Chief Pontiac, of the Ottawa tribe, when he formed his confederacy for the purpose of exterminating the English settlers along the border in 1763, met with some degree of success at some of the widely-separated posts. At Fort Michilimackinac the Indians resorted to a clever strategy to gain admission to the enclosure. They began playing a game of lacrosse just outside the fort, and one of the Indians knocked the ball over the stockade. A number of them ran to the gate to enter, when dropping their lacrosse rackets and seizing concealed muskets, they poured in upon the little garrison, massacred a number of them, and carried the remainder away captive. The onslaught came with such swiftness, and was so entirely unexpected that the English could make no resistance. This occurred on June 4, 1763.

NARROW ESCAPE.

The Lexington Express Ran Into a Landslide Saturday Night.

Train No. 12 on the L. and N., due to this city at 8:15 p. m., met with an accident Saturday night that but for the carefulness of the Engineer, James Lemmon, would have been attended with loss of life.

As the train was nearing Bowden Station, between Millersburg and Carlisle, the engine struck a large landslide, and quick action on the part of the Engineer prevented serious injury, the only damage done being the loss of part of the engine's pilot.

The accident delayed the train about an hour.

CHANGE OF RUNS.

The L. and N. Makes a Shake-Up in Engine Crews on This Division.

They, however, only go as far as Paris on this train, and from there they take the train that goes on into Lexington. They will move their families to Lexington.

Engineer James Lemmon and Fireman Feenay now have charge of the engine on the night train into this city.

Engineer Ed Monson, who ran the morning train into this city, has the run from Rowland into Cincinnati.

A Story Worth Telling

We never tire of telling the story of Uneeda Biscuit. We do not believe that lovers of good, wholesome food ever tire reading it.

Uneeda Biscuit are the result of two ideas. That soda crackers could be made better than they had ever been made before. That it was possible to convey them to the home fresh, crisp and clean.

The importance of the soda cracker as an article of daily consumption, made this worthy of extraordinary effort. True, many people laughed at the idea of so much thought—time—labor—capital, being devoted to a soda cracker. But the greatest industries of the greatest country in the world have been developed from smaller things than a soda cracker, and so it seemed worth while to make the best soda cracker that could be made and to place it on the table as good as it had been made.

To do the first required the selection of the best materials, of the best equipment, the highest skill. To do the second upset all traditions. The oldest bakers said there was no way to keep a soda cracker good.

That no one expected it any way. That people were satisfied to eat them stale, as they had been in the habit of doing. And so it fell to the lot of younger minds to do this unheard of thing—to keep a soda cracker good until eaten.

The result was the creation of the In-er-seal Package with red and white seal. An invention that kept out the air, moisture, dust germs, that first retained the natural flavor of the biscuit, keeping it crisp and fresh until it reached the table, and so Uneeda Biscuit became a reality. The little thing that seemed hardly worth while became a great thing that seemed hardly possible.

To-day over 300,000,000 packages have been consumed by the thoughtful people of this country and the demand is ever increasing.

That is the story of Uneeda Biscuit. Some day we will tell it over again for the benefit of those who are still "satisfied" with the stale and broken crackers that come in a paper bag, when they can get Uneeda Biscuit whole, fresh, and clean.
